This just in...

Hello parents! Our private showing of Born In China at the Zeus Theater in Waynesboro was wonderful. What a fun way to launch our unit on animals!

Thanks to everyone for the kid's notes, treats, school supplies and gifts for teacher appreciation last week. I was so touched!

We now have 5 more weeks of school. Special events will keep popping up as we close out the year, which is fun and exciting, but we still have a lot of work ahead of us. Please help your child stay focused by getting them to school on time, helping them complete and return homework on time, and helping them get enough sleep each night. This week we will begin some end of year reading and spelling tests. This will continue over the next 2 weeks. Reading aloud nightly would be beneficial in preparation for these tests as fluency is a factor in their scoring. Thanks!
