A MESSAGE FROM THE TEACHERS

Hello parents! This week was very exciting with the students beginning to present their animal projects and beginning to study extreme weather and tracking the weather each day.

Our butterflies also emerged from their chrysalides this week! Thanks to Tessa's mom for sending in the butterfly growing kit.

Next week we will be enjoying some fun St. Patrick's Day activities as well as writing to Pen Pals from Murray Elementary School.

THIS WEEK'S HIGHLIGHTS

Reading: Hurricane, What Mary Joe Shared, Chrysanthemum, Exclamation Mark

Writing: If a Leprechaun Gave Me 6 Wishes..., research on extreme weather

Math: skip counting to 1000 by 5 and 10, 2-step addition and subtraction with and without regrouping with 2, 3, and 4 numbers, place value, time to the quarter hour

Spanish: days of the week, the butterfly

Science: extreme weather: hurricane, tornado, and blizzard, weather simulator

Other fun stuff: Decades Day, STEM: building structures and testing them against hurricane elements, Iditarod excitement with Ms. James
